Authors of the Month

Lauren Williams.

Before turning to fiction, Lauren worked as a lawyer, diplomat, actor (appearing as a murderer in Miss Fisher's Murder Mysteries) arts journalist and museum communications manager. Neighbourhood Watch is her first novel.

Penny Tangey.

Penny is a librarian, mother and former stand up comedian living in Melbourne. She has published a number of children's books,where she has won a Queensland Literary Award. She has just published her first novel for adults What Rhymes with Murder.

Book of the Month

Getting Away With Murder by Shari Lapena.

Jill and Ted adore their New York brownstone the way others adore their children. They have carefully, expensively, made every inch of it their own. It reflects who they are, their status and their taste. With the grand mahogany staircase and state-of-art-kitchen, it is the stuff of glossy magazines and real-estate dreams. It is their sanctuary.

So when Ted's inheritance runs out and he makes a bad investment, they panic. How can they protect their beloved home and enviable lifestyle?

The answer is obvious, or, at least, it is obvious to Jill and Ted. The death of one wealthy family member could solve all their problems. Together, they will get away with murder.

As long as they trust each other. And as long as there are no surprises.

Recommended Reads

The Last Encore by Santa Montefiore.

When Pixie Tate is sent to solve a mystery at the old Aphrodite Theatre in Cornwall, she expects to find another restless spirit waiting behind the velvet curtain.

But when she discovers the theatre is just a few miles down the coastline from where she met the love of her life Cavill Pengower, she realises that it is no coincidence.

As she slips back one hundred years, Pixie knows she must only unveil what happened to he woman whose spirit haunts the stage today, but somehow sever this powerful connection with Cavill once and for all.

An Ocean and a Day by Hannah Richell.

In 2014, author Hannah Richell was living a happy and fulfilled life in Sydney. Married, with two young children, she was in the middle of writing her new novel when the police knocked on her door to deliver the news that her husband, Matt, had been killed in a surfing accident at Tamarama Beach.

An Ocean and a Day is the riveting, intimate and poignant story of the rocky journey she travelled over the first two years of loss, but it is also, more uniquely, an account of what happens beyond those early years, when time and distance offer perspective and hope.

Hero by Patricia Wolf.

DS Lucas Walker is back home in rural Queensland. With his own family in free fall and reeling from the dramatic fallout of his last case, Walker faces one of his toughest investigations yet. He's just getting to grips with his new role in the small outback town of Katima when the body of a young man is found hanging in the park.

What at first looks like a tragic suicide, soon has Walker on alert when a connection with another death emerges.

And then a brutal murder changes everything. The victim is Caden Conroy, Australian cricketing hero, and the nature of his death leads to an unparralleled media frenzy. When Walker is sidelined by Brisbane Homicide, he must go his own way to unpick the lies and corruption at the heart of these cases. Only then will he know if they are connected. But at what cost?

Neighbourhood Watch & What Rhymes With Murder?

Wednesday 2 September, 6pm - 7.30pm

Neighbourhood Watch

Neighbourhood Watch is a sharp, stylish thriller with a killer opening hook, a generous dose of dark humour, and a truly distinctive voice.' Christian White.

The annual Curlew Street scarecrow competition is back, and the residents of Melbourne's inner north have never seen an entry like it. Shirt bloody, head and arms slumped over a scarecrow crucifix: Victoria's most conservative Supreme Court Judge, Harry 'The Pope' Somerton, is dead...

What Rhymes With Murder?

When exhausted new mother Frida attends Baby Rhyme Time at the local library, she feels a sense of purpose that has been lacking in her anxious, apartment-bound, sleep-deprived life. But at the end of the session a piercing scream is heard, followed by the thump of a body, and the library becomes a crime scene.

Before long, Frida finds herself part of an unlikely group of sleuths investigating the murder. Between gossip and cups of magic at their local cafe, they are too busy having fun to realise how close they are to danger...

Māori Roadtrip Film

Thursday 10 September 7.30pm show-time

The Māori celebration of New Year in July, marked by the rising of the stars in the Matariki constellation, is an occasion to mourn the deceased, celebrate the present, and prepare the ground for the coming year.

While driving the length of New Zealand from hospital on the South Island to her home on the North, Māori Elder Hamo takes on the care of Jo, a troubled young woman being evicted from a caravan park, who has lost touch with her Māori culture. They form an unlikely bond, and as they confront past traumas and demons, their journey becomes a path to healing and reconciliation, experienced through Matariki.

Twilight Talks

A Brief, Selected History 'Herstory' of Nursing at Ballarat Base Hospital - Over the years.

Wednesday 16 September, 5.30pm - 6.30pm

Speakers: Emeritus Professor Margaret Bennett AM, Sarah Birtles & Shirley Jones

The 'herstory' of nursing at BBH, now Grampians Health, reflects changing times in Victoria.

After looking at what is a nurse in 2026, we briefly glance at the way in which nursing changed, quite dramatically, during the settlement of Ballarat, the influx of miners, and through the 19th 20th and 21st centuries.

As we see the development of the hospital, we see how our ancestors recognized the importance of nursing, and midwifery, and ensured the BBH nurses were among the best, not only in Victoria, but also the world.

As we traverse this 'herstory' of nursing, we will hear how the BBH changed and adapted, and there will be some surprises perhaps. We will pause to glimpse at the development of midwifery, hear a firsthand experience of a country girl at the BBH during the early 70s and look at the role played by the BBH Trained Nurses League which, having run its course, will end at the Annual Reunion, November 2029 after 100 years.

As you will hear, no matter how the times change, so too does nursing, to ensure that nursing care is adapted to the times to provide the best care for the here and now.

Cost: $9 BMI members - $13 General Admittance.

The Australian Wiccan Conference

Weaving Magic Together

Saturday 26 September 10am - 6pm

The AWC has run annually since 1984 for witches, occultists and pagans of all paths.

It is a significant not-for-profit event for those involved in Wicca and Paganism in Australia, fostering a sense of community, education, and spiritual exploration. It provides a space to learn, connect, and deepen one's understanding of these traditions.

The conference is traditionally held on the weekend closest to the Spring Equinox, with workshops, classes, lectures, entertainment and socialising.

AWC events are held in different locations around the country each year, with different hosts and themes. The 2026 theme is "Weaving Magic Together", with the event trialing a new, one-day format.

Styled

Tuesday 29 September, 6pm - 7.30pm

Sally will be in conversation with host Mary Card.

Personal stylist Sally Mackinnon, known to her almost 400K (Instagram & Facebook) community, brings STYLED — a warm, practical and refreshingly realistic guide to building personal style with confidence,clarity and ease.

Drawing on nearly two decades of one-to-one wardrobe consults, shopping sessions, styling transformations and media appearances, Sally translates insider fashion knowledge into genuinely useful tools women can apply to their everyday lives. But STYLED is about far more than clothes.

At its heart, the book explores why so many women feel disconnected from their wardrobes — and often from themselves. Between trend overload, body changes, motherhood, work, ageing, fast fashion and the pressure to constantly reinvent ourselves, getting dressed has quietly become overwhelming for many women.

Sally's approach cuts through the noise. Rather than telling women what they "should" wear, STYLED helps readers understand their personal style, reconnect with confidence and build wardrobes that reflect who they actually are and how they really live.

Ideas of Love & Loss

Wednesday 30 September, 5.30pm - 6.30pm

Speakers: Writer, Anne Connor & Poet, Anne Gleeson.

In this conversation, writer Anne Connor explores with Australian poet Anne Gleeson ideas of love and loss, big challenges and small victories, as revealed in her most recent poetry collections, Small Acts of Purpose and The Deepest Thing.

Through a poetic memoir of her sister, who has lived with intellectual disability since birth, Anne's poetry depicts the reality of her sister's medical and social conditions, her personality, and how intellectual disability has been experienced in rural Australia.

Since leaving Federation University in 2013, Anne has worked in funeral, bereavement and palliative care. Her poems in Small Acts of Purpose highlight the tenderness and beauty she has witnessed, and the need to do better in how we care for people at the time of death, particularly for those who cannot speak for themselves.

Cost: $9 BMI members - $13 General Admittance.

Tell Me Something True

Thursday 1 October, 6pm - 7.30pm

Michael is coming home: This is his 20th novel, but the 1st to be set in Australia.

This is a once-in-a-lifetime publishing event for a book destined to enter the Australian canon as a classic.

The astonishing, emotional epic from Michael Robotham: a mystery, a coming-of-age tale and a love story wrapped into one, set against the simmering tensions of a small Australian town.

I look along the road and notice how many people are standing outside their houses or watching from doorways and windows. Staring. Studying.

'Do you think this town will ever forgive me?' I ask. 'Not in a million years.'

Small towns are quick to anger and slow to forgive, but Arlo Hackett doesn't expect mercy when he emerges from a twelve-year prison sentence and makes his way back to Yulara, a waypoint on Australia's Great Southern Road. The last time Arlo was home, his brother Luke was charged with a terrible crime and Arlo was found guilty by association. His return to the goldrush town is like cracking open a time capsule full of hatred and violence, along with memories of the people he loved – the ones he couldn't save.

Yulara wants Arlo gone, or worse, but every insult and humiliation pushes him to confront what really happened all those years ago.

The truth will shock you, surprise you, and break your heart.
